

Letter of Recommendation – Muhammad Nadeem

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Muhammad Nadeem, who participated in Manatal's responsible disclosure program as an external, independent security researcher.

During his participation, Nadeem submitted reports that demonstrated strong analytical thinking, technical depth, and a responsible approach to security research.

Nadeem demonstrated strong technical capability in web application security testing, along with a solid understanding of ethical hacking principles. His reports were consistently well-structured, reproducible, and clearly communicated.

Beyond technical expertise, Nadeem conducted his work with a high level of professionalism and responsibility. He respected defined testing boundaries and followed responsible disclosure practices throughout.

This letter is provided in good faith based on our limited interaction through the responsible disclosure program and does not constitute a comprehensive assessment of the individual's skills, character, or suitability for employment. Manatal accepts no liability for any decisions made by third parties based on this letter.

This letter pertains solely to past participation in our program during a limited period. It does not constitute authorization for any current or future security testing of Manatal's systems.

Nothing in this letter should be construed as an acknowledgment or confirmation of any specific security vulnerability, deficiency, or breach in Manatal's products, services, or infrastructure.

This letter does not waive, modify, or release any confidentiality, non-disclosure, or other obligations that may exist between the researcher and Manatal.

This letter is provided solely as a professional reference for use in direct employment applications. It is non-transferable and issued solely for the benefit of Muhammad Nadeem. It may not be publicly published, shared on social media, distributed, or used for marketing, promotional, or advertising purposes without prior written consent from Manatal.

Any disputes arising from or related to this letter shall be governed by the laws of Singapore.

Sincerely,
Yassine Belmamoun
CTO
Manatal Co., Ltd.